

Subject: Follow-Up on Demo Request for Deal Velocity Intelligence

Hi Sarah,

Thanks for joining the demo yesterday. I hope our platform's ability to analyze sales conversations and recommend next steps was clear. I wanted to follow up on the challenges you mentioned with your current CRM system, particularly around manual data entry slowing down your team. Could you share more about the impact this has on your sales cycle?

We'd love to schedule a deeper dive into how Deal Velocity Intelligence can automate insights and improve close rates. Are there other stakeholders we should include, like your VP of Sales or IT team? Also, I noted your interest in our ROI analytics feature—happy to send a case study on that.

Best,
Alex (Sales Rep, Velocity Solutions)

Hi Alex,

The demo was insightful—your platform's automated insights look promising. Our current CRM is a bottleneck; manual entry takes our reps 2-3 hours daily, delaying follow-ups. This is critical as we're targeting a 20% increase in close rates this quarter. I'm looping in Raj, our CTO, to discuss integration with our systems. He's concerned about security and API compatibility.

We're also evaluating another vendor, Salesforce Insights, which offers similar analytics but at a lower price point. Can you share more about your pricing and how quickly we could see ROI? I'd like to move fast—ideally, we'd pilot something by next month if budget approvals go through.

Hi Sarah,

Great to hear your feedback! I'm sorry to hear about the CRM delays—2-3 hours daily is significant. Our platform can reduce that to under 30 minutes by automating data extraction, as shown in our case study (attached). I'll address Raj's concerns by scheduling a security review with our IT team—would next week work?

Regarding pricing, our standard plan starts at $10,000/year for up to 50 users, with a projected ROI within 3 months based on close rate improvements. How does this compare to Salesforce Insights? I'd be happy to tailor a pilot proposal for next month. Should I include Raj or others in the next call?

Best,
Alex
